WELCOME TO MAY YOU LIVE IN INTERESTING TIMES, FESTIVAL OF CREATIVE TECHNOLOGY

This three-day Festival is all about 'do-it-yourself' with a programme that celebrates the latest intriguing uses of everyday technology and social innovation, enabled through shared ideas.

The Festival Diary and Map is designed to make navigation easy across our busy itinerary. There's a fantastic range of commissions, exhibitions, discussions, workshops and screenings, as well as a number of exciting, participant-driven events.

The Festival has also gone green, so this year we're not printing a brochure. In the spirit of do-it-yourself we're promoting the whole event online and we've prepared this at-a-glance Festival Diary and Map for you to print out or view on screen at your leisure. So once you've identified which events you want to go to, be sure you book where necessary – see HOW TO BOOK on page 2.

Places are limited (they really are) so do book to avoid disappointment.

We hope you will visit and participate in as many of the events as possible.

Our website provides all the latest information alongside a Blog for your comments.

Whilst you're out and about you can participate in the Festival by texting news to Alfred Sirleaf +44 (0)7504 433163 or listening to the Festival's radio which is broadcasting throughout the Festival www.switchboardonline.co.uk.
